Wants New Home
For Bank of Anderson
The committee of the Bank of Anderson is figuring with architects on the proposition to remodel the rear room in the building. The plans have not been agreed upon. One of the directors said last night that he was very much in favor of putting up a brand new bank, and that will be a credit to the upper part of the state of South Carolina, as the bank itself has been for nearly a half century. He is afraid of patching up and making more room the ultimate building of a beautiful home will be deferred.

Mr. Foster May Run
For County Commissioner

The annual meeting of the congregation of the First Baptist church will be held in the evening, beginning at 7:45 o'clock. All of the members of the church are urged to attend and all friends are invited. This will be the occasion for the presentation of the financial reports of the year. Dr. Vines in note to the Daily Intelligencer says that there will be "good music and refreshments."

W. W. Smoak
Still Quite Ill
A letter to the editor of the Intelligencer from W. W. Smoak brings the information that Mr. W. W. Smoak, the business manager of this paper, is yet quite ill and may be confined to his bed for some time. Mr. Smoak was engaged in the newspaper business in Walterboro for several years and was on a business visit to his old home when he became ill. Many inquiries have been received at the office. It is hoped that he will be able to return to Anderson within the next few days.

Young Men
Were Acquitted
Frank Stashy and David Harbin, two young white men, were given trial in Magistrate Sullivan's court yesterday on a charge of boisterous conduct on the public highway and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. It had been charged that they drove off the city streets much noise and disturbance.

Improving From
Serious Injuries
C. C. McCoy, who was painfully injured two weeks ago at Portman Shoals when a piece of steel fell on his left hand, was in the city yesterday and said that he was fast recovering from his injuries. Two men were working with the piece of steel up above Mr. McCoy when they let it slip from their grasp and it caught his left hand, mashing off one of his fingers.

Mixed The Bridge Work
A large force of hands, engaged in the work of building the concrete bridge across Main street, spent yesterday in moving their timber, lumber and equipment from the completed side of the bridge to the other side, where they will shortly begin work. The first side of the new bridge is now practically completed and just as soon as the city street hands can get the bridge paved and let traffic go upon the new bridge the side will be torn down and work begun upon it.

Wood Charged
With Grand Larceny
Chief Lee of the police force yesterday swore out a warrant for Jim Wood the young man who is accused of stealing a watch from William Laughlin. The warrant charges Wood with grand larceny. Following this action, Wood was transferred from the city jail to the county jail where he will be held to await trial at the court of general sessions for this county. His father was yesterday making an effort to get him sent to the state reformatory but it is said that he is too old to be sent there.

First Visit
In Twenty Years
L. N. Cox, who was in Anderson last night to appear before the Anderson city council, told a reporter for The Intelligencer that this was the first time he had been to Anderson since he was here 20 years ago at which time he installed the first electric lighting system that the town had ever had. He said that he could see no resemblance between the bustling, business-like city of today and the village he visited here 20 years ago. He spoke in the highest terms of the progress he saw on every hand and said that Anderson's growth since that time had been remarkable.

Yesterday Was
First Work-out
The baseball teams of the Anderson High school and the Anderson High school both had their first work-out yesterday afternoon. All indications are that both the institutions will have far better teams in the field this year than last year and some really good form was shown by the young men competing in the practice yesterday afternoon. The day was ideal and the first work-out was very successful. The next two weeks will see both teams hard at work and by the time the first games are played they should be in splendid shape.

County Assessors
In Session Yesterday
The county board of assessors for Anderson county, some 75 strong, were in session at the court house yesterday the meeting being called to order by Winston Smith, county auditor, promptly on the stroke of noon. The books of returns were turned over to them and they were instructed to begin their canvass as soon as possible and to have it completed by March 21 in order that the county officials can have every thing in readiness for the county equalization board when it convenes on March 31. The board of assessors is made up of 3 men from every township and six from some few townships.

This is the year for returns to be made on land and the responsibility is not a light one. The work is always hard, but every four years there is a new assessment on land values. Anderson's lands are assessed higher than any others in the state, than even the famed, rich Marlboro land, and it is considered unjust to make this county pay more taxes per acre than any other.

The assessors were given the tax returns and they will go to their respective township boards and go over them.

Freight Train
Was Wrecked
A northbound freight train was wrecked on the Piedmont & Northern lines near Piedmont yesterday morning about 11 o'clock. Little damage was done either to the track or the cars but it tied up traffic for some time, passenger train No. 32 being held up for over an hour. The wreck occurred on an abrupt curve.

An Eye For An Eye
Claude Lewis yesterday appeared before Magistrate Broadwell and gave bond for his appearance at the next term of court to answer to a charge of assault and battery on the person of Ira Hall. It is understood that a fight was in progress between Ira Hall and Jim Lewis, father of Claude Lewis, when the latter proceeded to stab Hall with a knife. Hall is also to face the same charge for the assault he made on the elder Lewis.

Auditor's Office
C. W. Wilson, who has been manager for the Columbia Tailoring Co. in this city, has resigned that position and accepted that of clerk in the office of county auditor Winston Smith. Mr. Wilson has already entered upon his new duties and is now to be found at the court house.

Long, commercial agent, with offices in Greenville. They were trying to get the Shriners to ride over their line.

Small Fire At
Cars Well Institute
Originating from a defective flue, a small fire occurred at Carswell Institute, located about 12 miles from Anderson, last Monday afternoon. The fire was discovered before it had made much headway and was extinguished with little damage done. A portion of the roof was burned off, but this was yesterday repaired and the school will resume its work this morning.

Orr Mill School
Has Been Accepted
The Orr Mill school was yesterday accepted from the contractors and this is said to be one of the prettiest and best arranged school buildings in the city. It is constructed of brick veneering and is splendidly put together, being finished in modern fashion throughout. It is a credit to the city and more especially to the section in which it is located. J. J. Baldwin was the architect.

AUG. W. SMITH, PRESIDENT.
Spartanburg Man at the Head of Greenville Mills.

The directors of Brandon and Carolina mills met in this city yesterday afternoon and formally elected Mr. A. W. Smith of Spartanburg, president and treasurer of these two mills, succeeding Mr. J. I. Westervelt, who declined re-election at a recent meeting. It has been understood for several days that Mr. Smith would be chosen as president of the two mills.

The directors decided yesterday to increase the capital stock of Brandon mill to $1,750,000. Preferred stock to the amount of $750,000 will be issued for the purpose of retiring the indebtedness of the plant. The majority of this stock is already paid.

It was stated by an official yesterday that the Brandon mill is in better shape financially than it has been for several years.

The directors decided also to increase the capital stock of Carolina Mills, and to issue preferred stock in order to retire the indebtedness. The extent of the increase was not stated, but will be announced soon. The retirement of the debt on this plant will mean a firm financial condition for it also.

Mr. A. W. Smith is a leading business man of Spartanburg. He has for some time been president of the Woodruff mills and of Union-Buffalo. He will retire from the presidency of the latter and will also retire from the presidency of the Union and Glenn Springs railway. He will continue to make Spartanburg his home.

Thomas P. Nell, a young white farmer of Cross Hill, was acquitted this afternoon of the charge of killing Robert Smith, a negro. A verdict of not guilty was returned in the case of Charley Darbey, colored, charged with killing his "in-law, E. F. Young. The charge against Young, at Stump Springs last January, will be tried separately. They were arraigned Monday. One of the trio, Greenwood Rogers, will be placed on trial tomorrow.

LIVE STOCK WILL BE CUSHED.

Calvin Starts Campaign This Week

In York-Watt Is Buying Stock.
Columbia, March 10.-P. H. Calvin of Clemson College, one of the live stock agents in the state, will start the organization of a live stock association in York county this week, according to information received from W. W. Long, head of the farm demonstration work in South Carolina, yesterday. Mr. Long went on to say that Mr. Watt also a live stock agent, was now in the states of Ohio, Illinois and Missouri, choosing live stock and advising farmers of this state that are with him and that have become interested in the raising of live stock.

The state department for the furthering of the interest of live stock in this state are very careful in interesting the farmers to take up this business. The agents go along with them and act in the capacity of expert counsellor and adviser. Inasmuch as live stock raising is comparatively in its infancy in this state a great amount of care is being taken to see that the farmers get their just dues, and a close consideration of the farmer's ability and opportunities to raise stock is given in each case. Mr. Long is very hopeful of the ultimate success of this branch of the demonstration work, and fully realizes the necessity of proceeding slowly.

BELTON'S CIVIC LEAGUE

Has an Important Meeting-Money for The Library

The Civic League met Monday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Jesse B. Lewis. The new officers filed their positions for the first time, and we had a very interesting session. It was decided to give the library association $50 with which to get the room ready, the shelves in place and purchase books and whatever else needs to be done.

Mrs. W. K. Stringer was elected president of the Library association, Mrs. W. C. Brown, vice-president and Mrs. Henry Campbell secretary and Miss Eliza Neville, treasurer. They hope to have the books all here catalogued and the library open in a very short time.

The league also gave $15 to the cemetery committee to begin the work of beautifying the grounds over there. This is a very small beginning, but we sincerely hope that it will lead to bigger and better things and to a beautiful cemetery. The league has also bought a lot
